An American success story.
Started by a veteran.
Continued by me.

Jack Taylor

SGT Randall Stater, U.S. Army

After serving as a decorated naval fighter pilot in World War II, Jack Taylor came home with a vision and work ethic that he learned aboard the USS Enterprise. He instilled these same values – integrity, pride and teamwork – into his new company. And he created a structure where people could advance their careers based on performance and passion. See how you can use your skills in our Management Training Program and write your own success story.

This is the start of something new. GO.
